

WEAPONS OF MASS OBSTRUCTION

For Two Years They Have Blocked Qualified Judicial Candidates

We are “saddened, saddened” that Senate Minority Leader Tom Daschle and Senate Democrats have “failed so miserably” to treat President Bush’s judicial nominees in a fair and democratic manner.

It’s now been two years—TWO YEARS!—since President Bush first nominated Miguel Estrada and Priscilla Owen to fill judicial vacancies.

But Democrats in the Senate are obstructing confirmation votes on these and other highly qualified appointments by filibustering their nominations.

No matter how the Democrats try to spin it or re-write history, their tactics are an unprecedented and constitutionally questionable usurpation of the minority’s “advice and consent” role.

It’s time to remove the weapons of mass obstruction in the Senate, allow the President’s nominees to have a straight up-or-down vote...and let the chips fall where they may. Let our judges go!

Call Senator Daschle at (202) 224-2321
to end the filibuster.
